Dining Out For Life 2018 set for Thursday, April 26th
24th Annual dining event raises funds to end AIDS in Central Indiana

Indianapolis, IN, April 26, 2018 – For 24 years The Damien Center has hosted the Indianapolis Dining Out For Life Event to help Hoosiers living with HIV. The Damien Center continues to improve its one-stop shop model of care that will be vital to ending AIDS in Indiana, and Dining Out For Life plays an important role in ensuring we reach that goal.

Dining Out for Life is an easy way for anyone to support the fight against HIV/AIDS in Central Indiana. Diners simply eat at a participating restaurant, and a generous portion of their bill benefits The Damien Center's efforts to provide life changing services to those living with HIV/AIDS and prevent the spread of HIV in our community. The 2018 event will feature local restaurants ranging from casual to sophisticated and everything in between, including old favorites and newcomers to the cause.

So which restaurants will be participating in this year's event? Check out The Damien Centers growing list online at www.diningoutforlife.com/indianapolis, where you'll also find a map of all participating restaurants. We are happy to feature over 50 restaurant partners who will be donating between 25% and 50% of their sales April 28th to support our fight to end AIDS.
